

When the Body is Electron Deficient

Your cells are powered by tiny electrical charges. When electron reserves run low, the body struggles to maintain its natural balance. Free radicals build up, creating oxidative stress - a silent pressure linked to fatigue, stress, and reduced vitality.

When the Body is Electron Rich

When the body is electron rich, its natural charge is restored. Balanced cells function more smoothly, supporting all essential body processes - from energy and clarity to recovery, relaxation, and overall well-being.

Ultimate Rejuvenation

Cellular Renewal & Vitality

Encourages the body's natural processes of repair and rejuvenation, often associated with skin radiance and overall well-being.

Mental Clarity & Focus

Supports cognitive performance and overall mental well-being. Many users describe feeling refreshed, clearer, and more energised after sessions.

Deep Relaxation & Stress Relief

Creates a calming effect often compared to meditation or time in nature - encouraging relaxation and inner balance.

Circulation & Energy Balance

Helps support healthy blood flow, oxygenation, and energy distribution - contributing to sustained vitality and balance.

Oxidative Stress & Inflammatory Balance

Provides electrons that may help counter free radicals and support the body's natural ability to maintain balance and resilience - often linked to comfort, recovery, and healthy ageing.

Restorative Sleep & Recovery

Helps the nervous system unwind, which may contribute to deeper rest and improved recovery after exertion.

Contact us for a private consultation & demonstration

Showroom: 211 E 70th Street, New York, NY

Website: www.humanregenerator.us

Email: nick@standwellness.com

Phone: +1 631-276-0684

HUMAN REGENERATOR™ jet